#Lastdaybeforeholiday

Today's song of the day is this one:

It's about BRAMF – listen to find out what that is! Our science learning has been about how we can group and describe things in the natural world, so this will hopefully help you to remember a few of the groups.

English

Today is the last day working on activities from the menu linked to the Girl of Ink and Stars. Read to the end if you haven't done so yet, or listen to the last few chapters on Soundcloud (see 'Girl I&S audio final update for an updated list of links for all the chapters up to the end of the book') It would be great if you can do one of the activities from the bottom of the menu which relate to the book as a whole, to help you reflect on the whole story. Choose your activity, take your time and do your best! Then share your work with me and your friends via purple mash.

Alternatively, I'd love it if you could write a review of the whole book – what did you think of it? Would you recommend it to someone else? Why? What sort of reader would enjoy it?

This week's spelling Day 3 was words ending with –al, and day 4 was words containing the letters –ou. Without looking at your spelling sheets from this week, write down as many words using these letter patterns as you can think of in two minutes (time yourself). Then check the spelling of each one that you wrote (in a dictionary/online/with someone in your house). If you got any wrong, then make up a mnemonic to teach yourself how to spell that word.

Maths It's arithmetic day. We have finished our ratio and proportion unit so today it's time to have a go at some arithmetic. There are three levels of challenge – try whichever you like, or even do all three! Once you have had a go, use the answer sheet to check how you've got on. If there are questions you've struggled with, use your SATs revision guide textbook to go over that area of learning again. If you need more help, send me a message and I'll help you.

Art The work which you shared about William Morris was lovely, with people thinking really carefully about making their work symmetrical, and working with colours effectively. There is more work today following on from that, which involves using pencil and paper to explore different natural textures. Have a look at the art file for the instructions and some examples.

Don't forget to look at the 'Thought for the Day' on the website, and also check in with the Class blog.
