Home Learning – Year 6 – Friday 15th May 2020

If you haven't been in touch with me yet this week, PLEASE send me a message today to tell me how you are getting on!

Today's number of the day is 3.14.

What can you tell me about that number? How can you make it, draw it, represent it? What is special about it? Would you ever come across it in everyday life? Share your thoughts about it on the blog.

English

You know the deal by now – continue working on things from the Girl of Ink and Stars menu. Make sure that you are revising and editing your written work, just as we would do in class, to really think through the work you produce and make it the best it can be. It's difficult sometimes when you are working on your own to be really motivated to do your best, but you will learn more if you challenge yourself more and insist you do the best you can.

For some variety, if you would prefer, you could instead spend some time working in your Nelson Grammar book, or in your English SATs revision book. Choose areas that interest you, or challenge yourself by choosing to work on something which you know you find particularly difficult or you don't understand.

This week's spelling. The first two days were looking at suffixes –tion and –ed. Without looking at your spelling sheets from this week, write down as many words ending with these suffixes as you can think of in two minutes (time yourself). Then check the spelling of each one that you wrote (in a dictionary/online/with someone in your house). If you got any wrong, then make up a mnemonic to teach yourself how to spell that word.

Maths It's arithmetic day. As before, we're going to have a break from ratio and proportion today and have a go at some arithmetic. There are three levels of challenge – try whichever you like, or even do all three! Once you have had a go, use the answer sheet to check how you've got on. If there are questions you've struggled with, use your SATs revision guide textbook to go over that area of learning again. If you need more help, send me a message and I'll help you.

Art

Today's art lesson follows on from the work you did on Monday. Look at the powerpoint about the artist Georgia O'Keefe, and have a go at making your own drawings or paintings in a similar style.

Don't forget to look at the 'Thought for the Day' on the website, and also check in with the Class blog.
