Today's planet of the day is Neptune.

Research this amazing planet and make a poster/Top Trumps card/factfile/song/slideshow to show off your knowledge of this blue giant. What makes Neptune special? How did it get its name? How many moons does it have? Can we see it from Earth? Answer these questions and more :)

This week's spelling - Please continue to hone your spelling skills by using our class log-in to the Extra Practice Zone of Read, Write, Inc: Go to www.oxfordowl.co.uk and click the pink 'My Class Login' at the top. The username is mrs lindner and the password is North America.

Art – Have a look at the art files today for more work set by Mrs Phelps, inspired by William Morris. Time to get wallpaper-designing!

Maths Please do a half hour session on RMEasimaths today if possible. I would also like you to have a go at the next Problem Solving Lesson. The video is here: <https://vimeo.com/429389977> Password North America. Then complete Power Maths book C pages 54-56.

PSHE – Today is all about independence.

What does being independent mean? Do you think you have a lot of independence at the moment? Do you think this will change when you go to secondary school?

At high school you will have to be more independent – this can be scary at first but you will soon be a pro! What type of things do you think you will have to do independently OR will want to do independently? Think about things such as getting to school; remembering books/equipment on certain days; completing homework; going to the shop or the park by yourself.

With increased independence comes increased responsibility! It's like Spiderman – with great power, comes great responsibility! You must earn certain aspects of your independence and agree them with your parents/carers.

Complete the 'Autonomy and Independence' sheet, with Things I will need to do independently and Things I would like to do independently – discuss this with your parents if you can.

Don't forget to look at the 'Thought for the Day' on the website. We're phasing out the blog and moving to Google Classroom.
