Home Learning – Year 6 – Wednesday 3rd June 2020

Today's animal of the day is the lowland streaked tenrec, from Madagascar. One of a very varied group of animals called tenrecs, this one is particularly unusual. I think it looks like a cartoon character! Why not write me a short story or comic with a tenrec on an adventure?

English

See the English file for links to listen to the next part of the story, and a diary-writing task for your written work today.

Maths Please do a half hour session on RMEasimaths today if possible. I would also like you to have a go at the next WhiteRose lesson. Today you need:

An introduction to the 'production'

We aren't going to be able to do a play for a real audience this year, so I was thinking it would be great to make an end-of-year film instead to showcase your incredible skills and talents. What I would love to have is a short (15-30 seconds ONLY) video clip of you doing something which you are good at or enjoy – it could be horse-riding, playing an instrument, drawing, painting, singing, dancing, reading a poem, doing keepy-uppies, reading a (short) story you've written – or anything else at all. I'd then like to sandwich these with a couple of songs, some talky-bits and maybe a dance which we could record individually and edit together (I'll give you some more information about this bit later) to make a film to celebrate you all. Today I'd like you to begin to think about and practice your talent or skill, and plan how you could film it to show off to the best of your ability – don't send me your videos yet, just get planning, practising, rehearsing and testing out video ideas – I'll let you know how to share them from next week – I'll need them all to be finished by the end of June.

Don't forget to look at the 'Thought for the Day' on the website, and also check in with the Class blog.
