Literacy:

For our Literacy lessons this week, in addition to the ideas on the weekly overview sheet, I'd like you to complete a writing worksheet 'all about my feelings'. Using the prompts, write sentences about the different emotions. Work really hard to practise the size of your letters, good letter formation and sitting your letters on the line.

Handwriting: as the children move on into year 1, they will be introduced to pre-cursive and cursive (joined up) handwriting. Around this time in reception, we usually start to introduce the pre-cursive - whooshes on the letters! I've included a hand writing practise sheet with some tricky words if you feel your child is ready.

Maths:

I have had mixed feedback about the white rose hub maths learning from last week. I have therefore created three video/audio lessons for this week on time should you prefer to use these. In time, it is important to know that whilst we show children the clock and introduce some of the language, we do not expect children to be able to tell the time. We based our learning around sequencing of events, daily orders and the days of the week. Alternatively please continue to use the white rose maths resources for week 7, based around 'the princess and the wizard' by Julia Donaldson.

Log on to www.rmunify.com to access RM EasiMaths. If you need help with this please see Miss Newcombe's support on the website or message me. It really is a brilliant fun and interactive resource. It adapts to suit your child's ability...the more you play, the better it gets!! Please try to do around 15 mins each day ☺.

Philosophy Friday's

For each Friday this half term, Mrs Lindner will introduce Philosophy Friday's where we will discuss and explore 'big questions'. The weeks have been planned to be inclusive to children of all year groups across the whole school, meaning siblings can work together to explore and think widely about the topics. Look out on our website for more information from Mrs Lindner.
