- Child responses:
- 'People be mean to you consistently'
- "They never stop"

After discussing what bullying means – All respondents said no.

· What will happen if you tell someone that you or someone you know are unsafe?

- An adult would help us and will do it right now.
- The adult might ask why are you not feeling safe
- If somebody told you that they don't feel safe, you would say a couple of questions like "What is making you feel unsafe" and "Who or What thing is making you unsafe."

· Do you feel like your teachers listen to you when you have a concern?

All respondents said YES.

· Does the school help you to look after your wellbeing and mental health?

-Yes, definitely.

- We always talk about Mental health. We have mental health day. They do lots of mental health stuff in school.

- Some people who see people like Mrs Martin would do some drawings and write down their feelings.

- You would do different things to calm down from the basket and use the sand timer.

· Does the school encourage you to treat people equally? How does this happen?

All agreed YES

I'm unique. Everyone is different and should be treated fairly and equally.

· Does the school encourage you to respect people from different backgrounds? How does this happen?

- In English, we read different stories about different people.

- In RE, we learn about different religions and people from different countries. My cousins are Muslim.
